

by one Colonel Wigington; the Main Army of the Republic being then under the immediate command of Major General Felix Houston "and afterward under the command of Major General J. Sidney Johnson.

That said Gordon N. Mott and his defendant enlisted in the Military service of the Republic of Texas for the period of nine months.

His Defendant further says that a short time before the expiration of the term of service of the said Gordon N. Mott in the year 1837, he became so ill as to tender his unfit for service for the remainder of his term of enlistment. That Defendant applied to Major General J. Sidney Johnson in behalf of said Gordon N. Mott, for an order for his discharge which was granted, and thereupon he received an honorable discharge from the service.

His Defendant further says that he is informed and verily believes that the said Gordon N. Mott, hereinbefore mentioned, is the identical person who now has an application on file pending in the Comptrollers Office of the State of Texas, for a pension from said State, and further this Defendant saith not.
